ANNO PRIMO

GEORGII IV. REGIS.

C A P. XII.

An Act for the further Prevention of forging and counterfeiting of Bank Notes. [24th July 1820.]

WHEREAS the Forgery of Bank Notes hath of late very much increased, and is likely to increase, and as well for the Prevention thereof, to facilitate the Detection of the same, the Governor and Company of the Bank of England have, after great Consideration, resolved to issue a new Description of Banking Bank Notes, in which the Groundwork of each Note will be Black, or Coloured, or Black and Coloured Line Work, and the Words, Figures, and Letters, to be printed in Red, or a Bank Note, in White Letters upon a Black, Sable, or Dark Ground, such Ground containing White Lines intersecting each other, and the numbers, Figures, and Letters, to be printed in Black, and the Date will be printed in Black and Red Register Work, and the Back of each Note will distinctly show the whole Contents thereof, except the Name of the Bank, and the Date. Therefore, for the better Prevention of the Forgery of Bank Notes, and for the Security of the Public, be it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That from and after the passing of this Act, the Governor and Company, and the other Officers, Servants, and Agents for the use being of the said Governor and Company, to be authorized at ^{any} point for that Purpose by the said formation was, the basic concept of the book helped it to achieve a standard which was never equalled in later publications of this kind." In addition to his numismatic pursuits, Dr. Dickeson was a pioneer archaeologist in this country. His excavations of some 1,000 ancient Indian monuments and mounds resulted in a collection of 40,000 Indian curiosities that now resides at the University of Pennsylvania. 165.00

(bound with) A TABLE OF ENGLISH GOLD COINS FROM THE EIGHTEENTH YEAR OF KING EDWARD THE THIRD, WHEN GOLD WAS FIRST COINED IN ENGLAND, TO THE PRESENT TIME, WITH THEIR WEIGHTS AND INTRINSIC VALUES. London, reprinted in the year, 1745. 12 pp. 4to. Half cal & marbelled boards. Very good. Interleaved, extra - Illustrated passim with engravings on the added leaves and margins. Several manuscript items laid in or tipped in. With the signature of (John) Yonge Akerman on the title and with his initials gilt-stamped on the spine. Among the manuscript items are two receipts on printed forms, the particulars completed in manuscript and signed by Thos. Clarke, Master of H.M. Mint, for clipp silver coins to be melted down at Chester. One of these acknowledges 210 ounces from Mr. Charles Gerard. Also included: THE BILL FOR THE GREAT SEAL OF ENGLAND. The account, of John, Joseph & Philip Roettiers, chiefe gravours of his Mats. Mint for their "labour, wast and charges" in making the "last new Great Seal for his Majestie the 25th of Januarie 1677." The bill, in great length, under eight heads, amounts to £246.3.2 of which the Roettier brothers had received only a small part on account. Also in the volume is the Draft of the Petition of J. Roettier, his Majesty's engraver at the Tower, to the Lords Commissioners of H.M. Treasury requesting payment for "graving and making a Great Seal for his late Maty." (Charles II), John Yonge Akerman, 1806 - 1873, started, chiefly at his own expense, in 1836, the first English numismatic periodical. Major General Guthbert Wallace, R.A.M.C., c/o War Office,
London S.W. 1, England.

My dear General:

A compilation has recently been made of the names and citations of all the officers of the Army and Navy decorated by the United States Government in the World War, including those of our allies. The author, Major Ture, has added a brief history and description of the military decorations given by this Government, beginning with the order of Military merit established by General Washington.

The fact that your name and the citation of your services to my country appear in this little book gives it additional interest and value to both of us, and therefore I would be pleased to send you a copy of this little book, written as a souvenir of our service in a common cause and as an evidence of my very cordial esteem and good wishes.

Very respectfully yours,
W. L. Woodward
The Surgeon General.

The bi-lingual NPJJ is complete and following the last volume are numerous leaves in Japanese with textual coin illustrations. Many important articles are to be found in this important journal authored by its prolific editor. The short life of the Journal can be attributed to Ramsden's death in January 1915, at the early age of 43. In the words of Jun Kobayagawa, the publisher: "His place as editor of our Journal cannot possibly be adequately filled by anyone else." According to H. F. Bowker: "At the time of his death he was without doubt the foremost writer and most competent occidental authority in his chosen field, that of Far Eastern numismatics." His collection of over 15,000 specimens is now in the cabinet of the American Numismatic Society. Complete runs of the NPJJ are now very rare.
